- A Taste of Massachusetts, Seasoned with Politics
  Thursday, Aug. 11, 12:15 pm-1:45 pm, Skyline Ballroom
  Feast on creamy clam chowder, savory lobster rolls and Boston cream pie, for a delicious taste of the 2017 Boston Legislative Summit. And because politics is in season, you’ll get an insider’s view from Mara Liasson, political pundit for FOX News Sunday and NPR.

GAME ON: NETWORKING RECEPTION
Monday, Aug. 8, 5:30 pm-7:00 pm, Skyline Ballroom, W375de
Chicago is a world-class sports town. Catch up with friends old and new, test your skills at a variety of games, and enjoy classic ballpark cuisine at this celebration of all things sports.

ILLINOIS SIGNATURE EVENT
Wednesday, Aug. 10, 6:30 pm-10:00 pm, The Field Museum
Savor and sip some of Illinois’ best offerings at one of the world’s great natural history museums. Come face to face with the largest T-Rex ever found and stand among larger-than-life soldiers in the exclusive exhibition, “China’s First Emperor and His Terracotta Warriors.” Be sure to catch the Navy Pier fireworks display from The Field Museum back terrace as the evening comes to a close (weather permitting).
Wednesday, Aug. 10 | 8:30 am-10:30 am

The Future is Near: Revolution of the Roadways
A brave new transportation world is on the horizon where autonomous vehicles are at our service with a tap of a mobile device, traffic fatalities could be drastically reduced, and new partnerships pave the way for a radically different mode of travel. But it takes investment among legislatures, agencies and industry.

Making the Grade
What will it take to move the United States from a mediocre C on the international education report card to the A+ other nations are scoring? NCSL’s International Education Study Group examined the principles that make countries like Finland, Singapore, Poland and China achieve a perfect education score. This interactive session will give you the syllabus to make it happen.

Reducing Poverty: A Bipartisan Approach
How do we address poverty, wages and the collapse of the middle class in the U.S.? You’ll dive deep into new recommendations to solve poverty from The American Enterprise Institute and the Brookings Institution, which brought together experts across the political spectrum to come to consensus on this difficult problem.

Wednesday, Aug. 10 | 2:45 pm-4:45 pm

Collective Creativity
New leadership looks, sounds and feels, well, a lot like jazz. You’ll get a musical perspective on the creativity, inspiration and efficiency that characterize leadership from Orbert Davis and members of the Chicago Jazz Philharmonic, who use music as a catalyst for change.

Reaching Across the Aisle on Juvenile Justice
There is growing recognition by both Republicans and Democrats about what makes juvenile justice systems more effective at reducing juvenile crime. With a focus on evidence-based programs that effectively treat and rehabilitate young offenders, lawmakers in a number of states are working together to strengthen juvenile justice.
Targeting Health Care Costs
You know that health costs continue to rise, challenging state budget writers and squeezing other program priorities. But, how much do you know about where the money goes? For example, about 5 percent of the nation’s patients account for half of health care spending.

Thursday, Aug. 11 | 8:00 am-9:15 am
Talk Like TED
Short, concise, emotionally connected—it’s what everyone strives for in their communication. And nobody does it better than TED. It takes practice, practice and more practice to make your speech perfect. But after this interactive session you’ll be speaking like a pro, and prime-time ready.

Thursday, Aug. 11 | 9:30 am-12:00 pm
RX for America’s Opioid Addiction
The nation is battling a lethal epidemic that kills more people each year than traffic crashes. More than 120 Americans die each day from drug overdoses, with the majority caused by abuse of opioid prescription drugs and heroin. State resources are increasingly strained by rising foster care caseloads and crowded emergency rooms and jails.

Welcome to the Third Wave of the Future
Economic powerhouses like Uber, Lyft and AirBnB challenged the culture and structure of prevailing business models. Now the dawn of a new technological revolution is on the horizon—the “third wave” of the internet. It will change our lives in unimaginable ways.
Everytown for Gun Safety combines a grassroots movement of more than 3 million motivated members and the best minds in policy-making and legislative strategy. Together we fight for laws that respect the Second Amendment while keeping guns out of dangerous hands.
All sessions will take place at McCormick Place West unless otherwise noted.

Resolutions
The deadline for submitting resolutions for consideration at the 2016 Annual Business Meeting has passed. The NCSL Permanent Rules of Procedure allow the Chairs of the Standing Committees to waive the deadline “under extraordinary circumstances.” Legislators wishing to file a resolution after this deadline should contact NCSL Executive Director William Pound in Room W471b at the McCormick Place West Convention Center.

NCSL Nominating Committees
The NCSL nominating committees will propose a slate of legislators and legislative staff to serve as officers and members of the executive committee of the Conference for the coming year. Candidate interviews will take place on Monday, Aug. 8. The slate of nominees is presented and ratified during the NCSL Business Meeting on Wednesday.

How NCSL is Organized
The Conference is governed by a 63-member executive committee, elected yearly, which includes both legislators and staff, under the leadership of seven officers. The NCSL Standing Committees guide the lobbying efforts of the Conference and serve as forums to exchange ideas and information among the legislatures. The legislatures’ presiding officers appoint legislators and legislative staff to the Standing Committees. NCSL also supports 13 professional organizations for legislative staff, and makes use of task forces to address issues of particular impact.

How to Get Involved with NCSL
How do I get involved in a Standing Committee? The presiding officer in your state must appoint you to a Standing Committee. Contact him or her and indicate your desire to be appointed. Standing Committees meet on Monday and Tuesday to discuss important state and federal issues. These sessions are open to all attendees.

How do I get involved with a Staff Section? Contact a Staff Section or Network officer, the Staff Section or Network liaison, or your NCSL state assignment contact and ask to be included. Staff Sections will meet throughout the week to discuss their ongoing projects. These sessions are open to all attendees.

How do I know what benefits I’m entitled to? Visit NCSL’s website at www.ncsl.org to learn more about all the benefits available to legislators and legislative staff. From free publications and technical assistance, to extensive research and skills training, NCSL offers numerous ways to help enhance your legislative work.
