2019 Workplace Benefits Report

Bank of America speaks to employers and employees about a range of topics that can affect feelings of financial wellness. The health and wellness of employees can have a profound impact on a business, so we share our insights to empower employers to take a more proactive role in helping employees live their best financial lives.

The majority of employees feel financially well

And the feeling of financial wellness comes from when they feel that they:

Can effectively manage day-to-day expenses

Feel savings for retirement are on the right track

Are able to pay bills and save for future goals

Unfortunately, women continue to lag in financial wellness

Women are less likely to say they feel financially well

And women have far less saved for retirement
