1) In your opinion, what is the most helpful thing you do as editor. Why?

2) What do you and your office do as editors that you would never change? Why?

3) If you could change one thing about your editing process and not fail, what would it be? Why?

4) If you could change one thing about how you communicate with the drafters, what would it be? Why?

5) Do you believe there are any problems with how you communicate with the drafters?

6) What do you feel you can do to improve communication between editors and drafters?

7) What do you feel your office can do to improve communication between editors and drafters?

8) What would you like to see the drafters do different? Why do you feel that would help our communication?

9) What do you feel the future holds for drafters and editors?

10) Any other comments about the communication between drafters and editors?
Drafter Questions

1. Is feedback from the Editors helpful?

2. How is it helpful? What is the most helpful thing?

3. How is it not helpful?

4. What do you like about feedback from editors?

5. What do you dislike about feedback from editors?

6. Describe a problem with the way you communicate with editors?

7. What can the editors do to improve?

8. What can we drafters do to improve?

9. If you knew it was guaranteed to succeed, what would you change about the Editor-Drafting relationship or interactions?

10. Other comments or issues?